

Keeper League Rules - Second Draft

8.20.2025

KEEPER STRUCTURE

- You can keep up to 3 players per season
- Teams will declare who they are keeping [TBD days] before the draft.

KEEPER ELIGIBILITY & COSTS

1. Drafted Players

- Cost the round they were drafted in (if they were drafted in the 5th round and you keep them you forfeit your 5th round pick)
 - If a player was traded, the same rule applies it's based on where they were drafted, not who drafted them.
- If you keep the same player a second time (they were also kept the previous year), their cost escalates by +1 round from the previous years keeper cost. More on this below.
 - Important: A 1st-round pick cannot be kept twice (impossible due to escalation).

2. Waiver Pickups or Late-Round Draft Picks

- Players added from waivers, or drafted later than Round 8, cost a Round 8 pick to keep the next season.

ROSTER COMPOSITION RULES FOR KEEPERS

- Only 1 keeper may be a player with a draft cost in the first two rounds.
- If keeping 3 players, at least one keeper must have an 8th-round (or later) cost.
 - So you could keep a player with a first round cost, a third round cost, and a player with an 8th round cost (late rounder/waiver)
- Maximum keeper length for any player: 3 keeps, so 4 total seasons (draft year + 3 keeps).

OTHER RULES

- In order for a player to be kept, they must meet at least one of these requirements:
 - They were in a starting lineup 4 or more weeks
 - They were rostered for 9 or more weeks
